

IDFPR

Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation

Brian S. Creech

Deputy Chief Financial Officer

Brian S. Creech serves as the Deputy Chief Financial Officer for the Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation. In this leadership role, Brian oversees Fiscal Operations for both the Accounting and Budget Sections, ensuring rigorous financial oversight and transparent reporting across more than 20 dedicated funds. Under his direction, Fiscal Operations maintains accuracy, accountability, and ethical stewardship of all appropriations, expenditures, and revenues, enabling IDFPR's divisions to effectively fulfill their regulatory responsibilities and serve the residents of Illinois.

Guided by the agency's commitment to operational excellence, Brian supports the development of a modern, data-driven financial environment designed to support proactive regulation, strategic resource allocation, and public trust. His vision positions Fiscal Operations as a statewide leader in responsible financial management while advancing innovation, regulatory modernization, and equitable service delivery.

Brian brings more than 35 years of federal fiscal experience to IDFPR. His career includes 40 years of service in the Army National Guard, where he retired at the rank of Colonel after multiple deployments to Iraq and Jordan in a variety of leadership roles.

Brian holds a Bachelor of Arts in Economics from the University of Illinois Springfield and a Master of Strategic Studies from the United States Army War College. He is also a Certified Defense Financial Manager, holds a Department of Defense Financial Management Certification Level 3, and is a Level 2 Certified Contracting Officer.

